

CAREER DEVELOPMENT SERIES

Speed Networking

Exercising Effective Professional Networking

Last June, MJAA held the successful Career Development Event, The Power of Effective Professional Networking. This event drew a diverse crowd of over 100 participants, hailing from various Fortune 500 companies and specializing in areas such as engineering, finance, law, and venture capitalism. As a follow-up, MJAA presents its latest professional networking event in its Career Development Series, Speed Networking: Exercising Effective Professional Networking.

In this guided exploration of the elevator pitch, participants will learn to quickly and intelligently present themselves in a structured, one-on-one environment. Participants will be presented a fast and effective way to establish contacts with other like-minded individuals, and will learn to quickly discover and establish mutual interests.

Speed networking is a structured meeting process with the purpose of assisting people in meeting many new contacts in a short period of time. In total, each one-on-one interaction will be limited to about five minutes. Therefore, it is highly recommended that attendees bring plenty of business cards and jot notes during the event.

Keynote Speaker • Caroline Lee

Caroline's primary experience is in the human resources and recruiting fields. She is currently employed with Accenture as part of their Global Recruitment Team and responsible for leading the overall Talent Acquisition Capabilities and Technology as well as metrics architecture and reporting capability. Caroline holds a BS in Cybernetics from UCLA and an MBA from the Haas School of Business.

About MJAA

MJAA is a professional networking association that helps early and mid-career professionals broaden their networks and realize their full personal and career potentials. We are young, energetic, and upward-mobile professionals in the Silicon Valley and San Francisco Bay Area. MJAA's activities include the highly acclaimed annual business & technology delegations to Asia (Asia Trip), executive mentorship program, quarterly professional development series seminars, and professional/social mixers. More information about MJAA at: <http://www.mjaa.net>

Nov 7, 2009 • Networking Event

Time

Saturday, November 7, 2009
1:30 PM – 4:00 PM

1:30 PM – Registration
2:00 PM – Keynote Address
2:30 PM – Speed Networking Session
3:30 PM – Open-Air Networking

Location

Google Maxwell Conference Room
1300 Crittenden Lane
Mountain View, CA 94043

Keynote Speaker

Caroline Lee is a Bay Area native with over 15 years experience in strategic planning, process analysis, and metrics and analytics. She has worked at both large corporations (Accenture, McKesson, eBay) and smaller start-ups (Epinions.com) and has extensive experience in developing and driving initiatives across multiple countries and working in a global capacity.

Admission

RSVP at the following Google Form:
<http://bit.ly/MJAASpeedNetworking>

$5 for MJAA members
$10 for non-members
Add $5 at the door

*Please RSVP by 1 pm
Friday, November 6th for RSVP rates.*

Feel free to invite your friends and co-workers – everyone is welcome!

Contact Information

For any questions about the event,
please contact mixer@mjaa.net